

BORN AGAIN

Born again, feels like I'm born again
Let's turn the page, and write another chapter of life
Born again, feels like I've been born again
Let's go on to the next stage, write another chapter of life

Right after the rain shall come the rainbow
Sun will shine again (mmhh), no longer the time for pain
I've been wandering like a lifeless shadow
I was dwelling on loss, blinded by the storm(s) I crossed
Then came the insight, just a few words resounding in my head
My inner voice revived my fire, (and) woke up my life desire
Let's take another ride, from disillusion and slumber I fled
I'm finally moving on, back on my feet with a new vision

Born again, feels like I'm born again
Let's turn the page, and write another chapter of life
Born again, feels like I've been born again
Let's go on to the next stage, write another chapter of life

Nobody knows what the future may hold (nobody knows)
Whatever happens tomorrow, I'm gonna stay bold
I'm not afraid anymore to sail on murky waters
Oh I've settled the score, I'm coming back stronger than ever

No more I stand at the crossroads,
(I'm) no longer slowed by heavy loads,
Leaving my past behind, (I'm) ready for a new day
Many lessons I've learned from the failure,
They taught me how to build a better future
Now I see, where there's a will, there's a way

Knowbody knows what the future may hold,
whatever happens tomorrow, I'm gonna stay bold
I found the keys of my freedom, now the/my chains are broken
When one door is closed another is open

Born again, feels like I'm born again
Let's turn the page, and write another chapter of life
Born again, feels like I've been born again
Let's go on to the next stage, write another chapter of life

After being burned, the forest grows again
It's just a matter of time, before the nature reclaims its rights
Life took a new turn, I'm boarding a brand new train
Moving forward, ready for a new ride
From the ashes of yesterday, a rose is blooming this is the time of revival, sweet revival
Some crashes will come one day, the flowers will bloom again
Such as an endless cycle, sweet revival
